► About Gallery 114

Gallery 114 is a cooperative art gallery established more than 13 years ago with a structure designed to allow commitment to the development of contemporary art. Each member is able to present, via month-long gallery shows, an individual point of view. Exhibition opportunities for members fluctuate, but currently each member is allowed at a minimum one two-person gallery show and sometimes several group show opportunities annually. After a second two-person show, each member will be eligible for a solo show in the gallery. Total artistic freedom is the emphasis of Gallery 114, and decision making of it is made by consensus, and members must be present at the monthly meetings to participate in the decision making process. Gallery 114's income is derived from monthly member fees, in addition to a 10% commission on any member work sold at the gallery. New members are periodically considered for admittance into the Gallery 114 cooperative.

► New + Ongoing Member Commitments and Responsibilities

- New members pay a one-time new member fee of $75 and are required to read the Gallery 114 by-laws upon joining.
- All members are required to pay monthly dues (currently $50/mo) to support Gallery 114 operations.
- All members are required to sit in Gallery 114 for a minimum of 6 hours per month, with additional sit time, as needed. Members sign up on the sit schedule per their availability.
- All members are required to participate on a Gallery 114 committee, serving a specific business need of the gallery. Current committees include Steering, Exhibition, Installation, Publicity and Business.

► New Member Admission Process

If you are interested in joining Gallery 114, please compose a letter of interest, complete the Application Questions for Prospective Members and submit those along with a set of 10 – 20 slides of your work to the Membership Committee (contact information above).
